1.0 Purpose of Report

The purpose of this report is to seek Members approval on the annual self-assessment exercise of the effectiveness of the Audit Committee completed by Elected Members via a Survey Monkey. Attached at Appendix 1.

2.0 Background

Similar to previous years, the Audit Committee are required to assess their effectiveness annually in line with best practice.

For the 2022/23 the Committee were asked to consider the Self-assessment of good practice that incorporates the key principles set out in CIPFA's Position Statement and Guidance. For 2023/24 this Committee will be asked to complete the National Audit Office checklist to consider the effectiveness of the Audit Committee.

Members were circulated a survey monkey to complete as part of the 2022/23 financial year and four responses were received which is considered to be a low response rate. Audit would encourage all members of the Committee to complete the survey monkey. This invitation will be extended to the Independent Member who sits on the Audit Committee for the 2023/24 financial year.

3.0 Recommendation

It is recommended that the Audit Committee note the contents of this report and approve the completed Self-Assessment results contained herein.

Audit and Risk Assurance Committee Effectiveness Checklist

Introduction

1 Audit and Risk Assurance Committees play a crucial role in supporting the effective governance of central government departments, their agencies and their arm's-length bodies. The main source of guidance for public sector Audit and Risk Assurance Committees is HM Treasury's Audit and Risk Assurance Committee Handbook. Corporate Governance in central government departments: Code of Practice 2011 specifies that Audit and Risk Assurance Committees should be established in all central government bodies and that they should function in accordance with HM Treasury's Audit and Risk Assurance Committees Handbook.

2 An effective Audit and Risk Assurance Committee is plays a pivotal role in ensuring that organisations function according to good governance, apply appropriate accounting and auditing standards, and adopt appropriate risk management arrangements. A well functioning Audit and Risk Assurance Committee has the ability to:

- understand the role and activities of the Board;
- discuss with the Board policies and attitudes towards risk and ensure that management act within these parameters;
- critically challenge and review risk registers to provide assurance that the arrangements in place are working within the organisation;
- understand the risk management framework and the respective assignment of responsibilities;
- assume good communications and relationships with both those it seeks briefings from and those it provides assurance to; and
- contribute to the delivery of results and add value to the organisation.

Audit and Risk Assurance Committee Effectiveness

3 In line with good practice, Audit and Risk Assurance Committees should assess their effectiveness annually. A variety of assessment tools exist, from facilitated workshops to short questionnaires. Core principles from HM Treasury's Audit and Risk Assurance Committee Handbook, and common themes and good practice we have seen through our range of work with Audit and Risk Assurance Committees across central government, have been condensed to generate a series of prompts that Committees can use to help assess their effectiveness. This checklist can be used as a standalone exercise to consider effectiveness or in conjunction with other methods of assessment.

How to use this effectiveness tool

4 This short checklist condenses the core good practice principles of HM Treasury's Audit and Risk Assurance Committee Handbook. Committee members and other regular attendees should consider whether the Committee meets the detailed good practice question – “yes” (or adequately for the entity), “no”, or “comment”. As well as providing an opportunity to comment on an issue, the last of these categories could indicate uncertainty, that there is room to enhance practice in this area, or that the practice is not relevant. As an aide memoire, there is also space to note issues and actions identified at the end of each section.

5 Audit and Risk Assurance Committee members and their committee secretaries will, of course, need to ensure that they are familiar with the full requirements of the Handbook, and that they operate in accordance with them.

Principle 1

Membership, independence, objectivity and understanding

“The Audit and Risk Assurance Committee should be independent and objective; in addition each member should have a good understanding of the objectives and priorities of the organisation and of their role as an Audit and Risk Assurance Committee member.”

Question/Checklist	Y/N	Comments
1 Do we have a minimum of three members, all non-executive, at least two of whom, including the ARAC Chair, are non-executive board members?	Yes No
2 Do the Accounting Officer, Director of Finance, the Head of Internal Audit and the External Auditor routinely attend ARAC meetings?	Yes No
3 Are we satisfied with the range, frequency and numbers of executives and other participants attending the ARAC meeting? (Numbers of attendees should be sufficient to deal adequately with the agenda, but not so many as to blur the issues).	Yes No
4 Is our relationship and communication with the Departmental ARAC effective (or, in the case of a Departmental ARAC, its relationship and communications with its group ARACs), particularly in support of the Departmental Governance Statement?	Yes No
5 Does a representative of our Sponsor Department (or, in the case of a Departmental ARAC, a representative of its ALBs) attend our ARAC, where appropriate?	Yes No
6 Are conflicts recorded and declared at the start of every meeting, and is appropriate action taken when relevant matters are discussed?	Yes No
7 Do we have a clear understanding of our terms of appointment, including what is expected of us, how our individual performance will be appraised, the duration of our appointment, training required and how this will be provided?	Yes No

Conclusion

Are we performing effectively in this area?

Are there any actions we want to take to build our effectiveness?
