Half Light

Ellie Davies

31 March – 13 May

Admission Free

We are delighted to host Ellie Davies' first solo exhibition in Northern Ireland/Ireland. Based in Southern England, Ellie has been working in UK forests since 2007, making award-winning photography which explores the complex interrelationship between the landscape and the individual. The forest represents the confluence of nature and culture, of natural landscape and human activity. They are potent symbols in folklore, fairy tale and myth, places of enchantment and magic as well as danger and mystery and have also come to be associated with psychological states relating to the unconscious.

Against this cultural backdrop, Ellie's work explores the fabricated nature of landscape by making a variety of temporary and non-invasive interventions in the forest. She makes and builds using found materials, creates pools of light on the forest floor, uses craft materials such as paint and wool and has also introduced starscapes taken by the Hubble telescope.

Ellie is represented by Susan Spiritus Gallery in Newport Beach, California, A.Galerie in Paris, Sophie Maree Gallery in The Netherlands, Brucie Collections in Kiev, Art Gemini in Singapore and Crane Kalman Brighton Gallery in the UK.

**For families, worksheets and drawing materials will be available in galleries*

**Please see our Creative Courses section on Pages 12-15 or associated workshops and courses for both children and adults.*

Early Times: Metals, Wealth and War

1 – 15 April
Admission Free

Gold, jewellery, fine cloths, personal protection, battles for land, destruction of the forests, industrialisation... all may sound familiar in today's headlines. However, our fascination with material possessions and the power struggles that result began, according to archaeologists, with the Bronze Age. Bronze Age communities have left us with not only their stone monuments but fascinating hordes of weapons, grave goods and tools. This exhibition by Council's Museum Service explores the Bronze Age in the Causeway Region and displays many of the great archaeologist discoveries from this region.

Readings in Passage: Mountain Reflections

C.A.A.K.E
28 April – 24 June, Admission Free

The group C.A.A.K.E (Collaborative Art & Kinetic Environments) includes artists and performers Gail Mahon, Rachel Gomme, Tara J Murphy, Sandra Robinson, Brònagh Corr-McNicholl and Bridget Madden. In 2016, the group undertook creative work in the Sperrin Mountains and this resulting exhibition represents the memories, mark making and performance created in such an elemental and unique environment. Combining film, sound, large-scale prints and objects, the exhibition explores how our own physical selves record and experience movement, materials and time in connecting with our native natural places.

**Gallery Tour: There will be an artist tour by Gail Mahon to talk about the project on Saturday 29 April and 27 May at 12noon. This tour is free but please pre-book by calling us on Tel: 028 7776 0650.*

**Please see our Creative Courses section on pages 12-15 for associated workshops and courses for both children and adults*

Autobiographical Series and 11 Drypoints

Louise Bourgeois

A Hayward Touring exhibition from Southbank Centre

20 May – 21 June, Admission Free

Since she was honoured with a retrospective at the Museum of Modern Art, New York, in 1982, Louise Bourgeois (1911–2010) has been widely acclaimed as one of the most original artists of the late twentieth century and has exhibited at museums throughout the world, including at Tate Modern in 2007.

Best known for her powerful emotionally charged sculptures – enclosed 'cell' or cage-like installations and fabric figures – she was also a prolific printmaker and draughtswoman. Bourgeois taught printmaking at the School of Visual Arts, New York and said of it 'the whole history of the creative process is there'.

Most of the French-American artist's work dealt with strongly autobiographical themes, invoking her childhood emotions of loneliness, desire, anxiety and jealousy. Autobiographical Series (1994) consists of 14 etchings illustrating some of her deepest thoughts and memories whilst the 11 Drypoints (all from 1999) bring her obsessions into more vivid focus. Recurrent themes, such as a woman giving birth, a cat, ladders, long hair, feet, clocks, scissors, bathtubs and a pregnant mosquito all contain references to her emotional biography.

After many years of focusing primarily on sculpture, Bourgeois turned back to printmaking in the 1980s and continued to produce prints until her death in 2010. The two collections of works in this exhibition were made when she was in her eighties, after installing a small press in her own home.

*Free Talk - Louise Bourgeois: Her Life and Work. Curator and art historian Marianne O'Kane-Boal provides a talk on Thursday 8 June, 2–3pm. Suitable for students and art enthusiasts. Free but please book your place in advance.

**For school visits, an education pack is available.*

**For families, worksheets and drawing materials will be available in galleries*

**Please see our Creative Courses section on pages 12–15 for an exciting range of accompanying workshops for children and adults, including printmaking by the Derry Print Workshop.*

Wednesday 7 & Thursday 8 June, 8pm
Tickets available online only at www.dannyboyjazzandblues.com

Last year, the Kaz Hawkins Band raised the roof with an almighty concert as part of the Danny Boy Jazz & Blues Festival 2016. Brace yourselves, as Kaz and her band are returning for another two nights in our Danny Boy Auditorium! Multi-award winning and unique with 'knock your socks off' vocals from an equally delicious firework of a character, Kaz is unmistakable with a stage presence which has guaranteed her stellar rise to success. The band's 'Feelin' Good' album won the IBBA (International Blues Broadcasters Association) Album of the Year 2016 and with a recent USA solo promotional tour under their belt, they also recently represented the UK in the International Blues Challenge in Memphis, Tennessee and the European Blues Challenge in Denmark. Kaz will also be taking on a piano & voice tour when the band is off the road in July and will be collaborating with Sam York who has worked with Tom Jones, Ed Sheeran and more on a personal release in 2017.

Lore with Niamh McGlinchey

Saturday 24 June, 8pm
Tickets £12 full / £10 concession
(this is a cabaret style BYO event)

Lore return after their fantastic, successful debut performance here last year. The band have spent their time penning new songs for their upcoming album whilst supporting some of Ireland's finest artists along the way, including Mary Black, Cara Dillon and The 4 of Us. This will be a night of beautiful songs, delivered by two outstanding vocalists.

Niamh is a folk/country singer-songwriter from Co. Derry. Niamh's career began when she won an All-Ireland title for her rendition of "Raglan Road" back in 2008. She then went on to represent the North in RTE's "All Ireland Talent Show". She has spent the past three years touring across Ireland and the UK as a support act for Nathan Carter. To date Niamh has released three albums comprised of an eclectic mix of covers and original songs to suit all musical tastes.

Live Music Now present

Ta Ra Limavady – A celebration of local songs

Friday 30 June, 11am
Free admission

In my contact with the old...I had the rare privilege of sharing their folk lore and their old songs. - Sam Henry, 'Songs of the People'

This informal performance will bring to life some of the songs captured by Sam Henry, the renowned song collector from Coleraine. As part of a unique project run by Live Music Now and funded through the Arts Council of Northern Ireland's Arts & Older People Programme, the performance will feature local people from Thackeray Place Care Home and Thackeray Day Centre. They have been working with singer Laura McFall and pianist Kristine Donnan (Voice & Verse), for the last five months.

Each week the musicians have explored some of Sam Henry's songs, including the little known 'Ta Ra Limavady' and the well-known 'I'll tell me ma', and the Thackeray residents have shared their own songs and stories. This event brings the groups and musicians together for a bit of a sing-along, a bit of a performance, a cup of tea and a lot of fun. 'Danny Boy' is sure to make an appearance too! If you love old songs and great music, come along to join in.

Meditative Movement

Saturday 29 April, 10am-12.30pm
Cost: £6

If you like slow, meditative movement, then this workshop is for you! No dance experience at all is necessary for this inspiring workshop led by professional performer and dancer Rachel Gomme as part of C.A.A.K.E's exhibition participation programme. Rachel will guide you through a process combining slow movement, breathing and work with materials including basic shaping of clay and textiles to explore your body in relation to physical space. All materials provided. Please wear loose and comfortable clothing.

Intaglio Print with Derry Print Workshop

Thursdays 25 May & 1 June, 2-4.30pm
Cost: £20 full, £16 concession

Artists from Derry Print Studio will provide a printmaking demonstration/talk before participants produce and print your own simple intaglio drypoint print, using the fabulous Louise Bourgeois exhibition as inspiration. This two-part workshop is suitable for anyone over 14 years of age due to tools and materials used, so school/student groups as well as individuals are welcome to join in the fun!

Connecting Creatively

Thursday 25 May for 4 weeks, 7-9pm

Cost: £40 full, £36 concession

I found that I could say things with colour and shapes that I couldn't say any other way, things I had no words for – Georgia O'Keefe

Have you always wanted to be creative with visual arts but don't know where to start? Would you like to be able to use painting, drawing and making to switch off your busy mind and just have fun? Successfully introduced in February, this specially designed course by artist Linda Lewis nurtures individual creativity and self-expression in a small, supportive and friendly group. This time, the course will specifically reference the amazing work of world-renowned artist Louise Bourgeois whose current exhibition of prints reveals how emotion, thoughts and feelings can be the catalyst for creating art. All materials provided.

Cyanotype Print Workshop

Saturday 27 May, 10.30am-1pm

Cost: £8

As part of C.A.A.K.E's exhibition programme, visual artist Bronagh Corr McNicholl will take participants through a photographic printing process that produces cyan-blue prints. The quality of each cyanotype print is like recalling a forgotten memory as the process explores image-making using light exposure, objects and specific mark-making processes to create beautiful blueprint images. All materials provided.

Painting Pathways Out of Landscapes

Saturday 27 May, 2-4.30pm

Cost: £8

As part of C.A.A.K.E's exhibition programme, painter and sculptor Sandra Robinson leads this colourful painting workshop where you will learn to build up vibrant coloured layers from landscapes inspired by the Sperrin Mountains. Experiment with mountainous lines and distant horizons in a more free and expressive way inspired by imagery taken by the C.A.A.K.E artists of Crockback Mountain during their creative work last year. All materials provided.

Mindshift: The Confident Writer with Jane Talbot

Saturday 3 June, 10.30am – 4.30pm

Cost: €28*/£25

(Bookings must be made through the Irish Writers Centre via www.writerscentre.ie or Tel: 00353 (0)1 872 1302)

If you're one of the many writers who doesn't feel completely confident and relaxed when doing readings, talks and interviews then this workshop is for you. Over the course of a day, you will learn the tools and techniques for handling unwanted emotions (such as anxiety) and associated behaviours (such as speaking too quickly or too quietly). You will also learn how to generate resourceful states (such as confidence) which lead to engaging performances and interactions. And, finally, you will learn how to create a dynamic rapport with your audience. Participants will be expected to bring some of their work along to read aloud in class. Jane Talbot is a writer, storyteller and trainer of both Neuro-Linguistic Programming [NLP] and hypnosis. She has delivered workshops in the UK, Ireland, UAE, Kuwait and Israel.

terms and conditions of booking

Your Tickets:

Patrons are advised that ticket prices cannot be refunded, transferred or exchanged unless in exceptional circumstances at the discretion of the venue manager.

You can make a booking either in person or by telephone through cash, cheque or debit/credit card. Tickets will be held, pending payment, for 48 hours after your initial booking. Tickets can also be posted to you directly but may incur additional postage costs. We reserve the right to offer special discounted ticket prices for events at any time and prior bookings may be excluded from promotion.

Events:

Please note: Latecomers to theatre and music events may not be admitted unless there is a suitable break or interval. We reserve the right to alter or cancel any event without advance notice. Outdoor events are weather dependent and subject to change. Official photographers will at times take photos of events for Council purposes and may be used in future promotional purposes. In outdoor events all children must be accompanied by an adult. All details of events are correct at time of going to press.

Data Protection:

We assure you that any personal information submitted to us through a box office booking or our mailing list will only be used for our own monitoring/marketing purposes and will not be passed on to any third parties.
