SCHEDULE

66th ADDITION TO THE LIST OF BUILDINGS OF SPECIAL ARCHITECTURAL OR HISTORIC INTEREST IN THE CAUSEWAY COAST AND GLENS BOROUGH COUNCIL

HB Ref. Number	OS Map Numbers 1:2,500 or 1:10,000	Irish Grid Ref.	Building	Date Listed	Grade	Description and Evaluation	Date of Erection
HB04/15/020	22/13NW	C9473 2607	Music Centre, including gates and gate posts aka Ballymoney Performing Arts Centre, 23 Charles Street, Ballymoney, BT53 6DX, Co. Antrim		B2	Edwardian red-brick former technical school, built 1905-06 to designs by James A. Hanna (Denis O. D. Hanna's father) and extended in 1914 to designs by Hobart & Heron. With most of its external fabric intact, it exhibits many classical features from the period. Originally T-plan the building was extensively remodeled in 1914, almost doubling in size. This later addition of a second, symmetrical projecting gable with decorative brick and terracotta detailing and reconstituted stone window surrounds in 1914 complimented the original design, though it is of slightly lesser quality in terms of materials and workmanship to the original building. Despite these alterations the building retains its proportions and ornamentation. Although originally built as a technical college, at some point in or before 1975 the old building became the Ballymoney Music Centre, a role it retained until the 2000s. Located in its original setting with ornate entrance screen, just N of Ballymoney town centre, it is of significant local architectural and historic interest.	1900 - 1919
