1 THE MAYOR'S BUSINESS

The Mayor addressed the meeting by providing a snapshot of activities she had attended since the previous Council Meeting as follows:

"I would like to begin this month's Council meeting by congratulating the Council on achieving a Gold Award at The Onus Workplace Charter Awards. Our Deputy Mayor attended the event in Ballymena, and it's fantastic to see that our organisation is leading the way when it comes to providing assistance for victims for victims of domestic abuse. I would like to commend our Policing and Community Safety Partnership for all their work in this regard.

Also on the theme of congratulations, I would like to commend our sports men, women and teams who were recognised at our annual gala Sports Awards. Unfortunately I was unable to attend the event but I understand it was a fabulous showcase of the wealth of sporting talent in the Borough. To all the winners and nominees, I would like to offer my sincere congratulations.

And staying with this theme, I am delighted that the very first Freedom of the Borough is to be given to three of our region's finest sportsmen. Alan Campbell, along with Richard and Peter Chambers. They are fantastic ambassadors for our area, and it's quite right that they should be given the highest honour available to us.

To the current sporting calendar now, and I would like congratulate the hurlers from St Brigids in Cloughmills who've been crowned Ulster intermediate hurling champions for the first time after they beat Eoghan Rua, Coleraine, on Sunday. I would like to wish the side all the best as they go on to compete for the All-Ireland title.

Good wishes also go to Slaughneill's footballers as they prepare for this Sunday's Ulster Final against Kilcoo. It's the third Ulster final for the club this year, and so I wish all involved the best of good luck.

This month, I have been delighted to see progress in the provision of an air ambulance. I think we would all be in agreement that is a much needed service which will no doubt help to save lives. The helicopter's visit to the North West 200 paddock was quite symbolic, given the serious incident which occurred during the event last year. I know all those involved with the event are fully behind this service, and I look forward to seeing it become fully operational.

I would also like to mention Council's involvement with Armistice Day and Remembrance Sunday, and thank all members and officers for their attendance at services across the Borough. On Sunday I travelled to Rathlin Island for what was a very poignant service there in St Thomas' Church. I would like to commend all our local Royal British Legion's for their organisation of all the services.

Finally, we're now well and truly into the Christmas season and even though it's only November I've already had the pleasure of turning the Christmas lights on in Ballymoney and Limavady. Myself and Santa have seven more dates to look forward to, starting with Coleraine on Friday night so I hope as many of us as possible can turn out for what should be another great night of festive entertainment.

The Borough has so much to offer this Christmas, and I would encourage everyone to shop local and support the brilliant festive entertainment on offer in our four main towns. During Restaurant Week I enjoyed a great afternoon at Causeway Speciality Market in Coleraine. The wealth of traders on offer is fabulous, and I know a number of extra dates are being held over the coming weeks so there's no excuse for not being able to get along and support the traders and their great range produce."

- * Alderman Cole, Councillors Beattie, Callan and McCorkell joined the meeting at 7:05 pm.
